WE PRESENT...

We, the yearbook staffs of nine United States Air Force high schools overseas, present this, our third edition of VAPOR TRAILS. We have combined our efforts to form not only a yearbook and a treasury of memories but also, figuratively speaking, a guided tour through the six countries and three continents - Europe, Asia, and Africa - on which our schools are located. In each of the nine sections of our book we show our school days in the host country which many of us have known as home for three years or more. You, as you turn these pages, will see that no matter whether palm or plane trees, gilded domes or thatched cottages comprise a part of each school's background, the pupils of all nine are united by attending American schools outside their native land.

Our pictures, stories, and art work of classroom scenes and school events emphasize the similarity of our lives with those of our counterparts in the United States. We study English, French, algebra, and chemistry; we learn world geography, history, and American government; we try-out for plays, teams, and cheerleading; we join clubs, sing in choruses, help with carnivals, laugh with the freshmen during initiation week, and dance at parties and the junior-senior proms; and we wait breathlessly for class rings, yearbooks, and graduation day. These and many other activities we share with high school pupils from Maine to California.

Similar as our school life is to that in the United States, however, our living in a foreign country holds added interests. Our outlook broadens and our understanding of other peoples increases through our knowledge of their histories, languages, customs, and laws. Geography means more when the English Channel, the Seine, the Rhine, and the Mediterranean are no longer just names on a map. History becomes a colorful pageant when we explore the Tower of London, an ancient Roman Camp in Germany, a crusaders castle in Turkey, the gardens of Versailles, or the ruins of a once lovely, ancient city in Libya or Morocco. As we become better acquainted overseas, we can help strengthen the bonds of friendship and peace among freedom loving peoples, now while as junior ambassadors we live among our new friends, and in later years when we assume adult responsibilities in the United States.

Skimming through these pages of Vapor Trails in days to come will bring to mind recollections of school days, classroom scenes, and friends overseas. We shall recall the pleasure of making a mercury barometer in the science laboratory, the thrill of cheering for the team, and the excitement of planning a school dance. We shall also remember eating hot, buttered scones beside an English fire, buying trinkets in exotic Eastern bazaars with the sun blazing down upon us, mailing souvenir cards to ourselves and our friends from the tiny post office at the top of the Eiffel Tower, trekking through the Black Forest in Lederhosen, or watching the great black camels swaying along dusty desert roads. Crowded with many memories, our 1959 Vapor Trails is a book to be cherished — always.

MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:

I congratulate you upon completion of your high school studies at United States Air Forces in Europe schools.

As junior members of the widespread USAFE community you have had a unique opportunity to enrich your education through direct contact with peoples and countries sometimes similar, but often vastly different, from our own.

As a result you have a greater awareness of the new and vast responsibilities that the United States has assumed in the world in recent years.

America is a new country when compared to any of those in which you have been living. Every nation touched by USAFE operations has a rich historical past reaching back to ages so remote that to think of them puts our briefer American tradition into new perspective.

While our country could once live apart in the world, in the space age we cannot escape the responsibilities of being a great nation. People who were remote strangers in foreign lands a decade ago are now our next door neighbors. We must find ways of getting along with these people, of appreciating their customs and traditions and of being sympathetic to their problems.

You young people now graduating are our future America. You will be taking your knowledge of foreign lands back home with you and you will be able to use it when, as adults and voters, you are called upon to make decisions affecting the fortunes of our country.

My best wishes to each of you.

F. F. EVEREST General, USAF Commander-in-Chief

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1959

The time has come for you to bid farewell to teachers, friends and associates of your high school. Many of you will continue your schooling and others will begin a career. The fine education that has been provided you by the United States Air Forces in Europe should spur you on to greater undertakings.

By living in a foreign country during your senior year, you have had the opportunity of making friends with students of your host nation, taking advantage of cultural aspects, and observing the customs, thereby, gaining a better understanding of the people, the history and the problems of the country. You have had the opportunity to travel to other foreign countries and see many important historical sights of the past and present day. You have also served as junior ambassadors for America by your example depicting the life of the youth of our country.

I sincerely wish you happiness during the coming years and the best of luck in your chosen careers. Work hard, be sincere, and success will be yours. You are the future leaders of America, a country in which we are all proud to live ... make sure that America can always be proud of you!

NEW VS. OLD

Just as the city of Ankara is a moving panorama of the new versus the old, so our school has seen many changes in its two years of existence. It has gone a long way from its primitive beginning on September 16, 1957. This has been a memorable year, for it has seen many improvements. The year '57-'58 was one of hardships and shortages. We were just beginning. We had neither lockers nor heat until December, and no gymnasium. There was no cafeteria until Christmas. When school opened on September 3, 1958, we found many changes. Our lockers had arrived, and heating units were installed. A fine cafeteria was set up and a new gymnasium appeared. Type-writers and sewing machines became realities. Clocks decorated every classroom, and the play-ground was fenced in. The overall appearance was greatly improved.

Our school became accredited in May, 1958. Our student body increased and with it came a larger teaching staff. This made possible many new classes. Among them were German I, French III, and Shorthand. Some of the new activities included folk dancing, rifle club, photography club, bridge club, pom-pom girls, band, chorus, and pep club.

Our Turkish-American relations took a forward step with Turkish classes available to all students from grades one through twelve. We increased our understanding of this country by exchanging visits with the Turkish schools. This was indeed a year of progress and one that we shall cherish among our memories of Ankara.

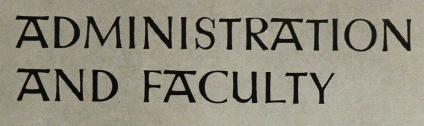

As you turn the pages of our book you will meet a bearded fellow. He is Nasredin Hodja, Turkey's best-loved teacher-priest. He had a talent for being very foolish as he did wise things and being very wise as he did foolish things. We have chosen him as one link between the new and the old because his charm lives even today after five centuries.

A variety of registered nurses kept us hale and hardy.

SENIOR HISTORY

We, the Seniors of AHS, will remember our last year as a very busy and gratifying one. When we first assembled in September we found that there were only nineteen of us. Being a small class had an advantage; it showed us the importance of organization and working closely together to accomplish anything. We elected our capable class officers and our two Student Council representatives; one of whom was chosen Student Council President.

To finance our class trip in May, we planned several fund raising projects. Largely through the help of the American community they were successful. We had a raffle, bake sales and at Christmas we worked hard selling trees. Our part in the Carnival was the wheel of fortune, fish pond, donkey ride, harem room, and novelty stand. A large part of the profit was ours and we rejoiced as the class treasury grew steadily. At Christmas we planned and decorated for the Sno-Ball. With everyone in the holiday spirit it was quite a gay dance. The other formal we sponsored was the Valentine Dance. It was a lovely affair and certainly all hearts were in it.

Those of us who are college-bound found ourselves faced with college board exams in March. What a relief it was when they were over. And how impatiently we waited for the results.

With the arrival of spring in May came the Junior-Senior Prom. Engineered by the Juniors it was the biggest social event of the year. The Prom was truly a dance none of us shall forget — soft lights, dreamy music, and the excitement with the knowledge that this was to be our last high school dance. We were footsore by the end of the evening, but we'll always remember what a fabulous dance it was.

Soon after followed the class trip; that longawaited event we had worked toward all year. It was truly one of our most cherished memories. After that glorious week we returned to Ankara well tanned, tired, and talkative.

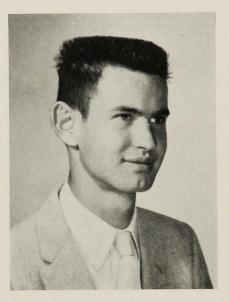

Then before we knew it, graduation was approaching. We attended solemn Baccalaureate services and then at long last, graduation. Dressed in our robes we were mighty happy but also a bit sad. Twelve years of schooling completed but the most memorable of all was this our Senior year at AHS. It was hard saying good-bye to our classmates who had shared in the year's work and play. We realized that we would possibly be scattered over the world by next year and how final would be our farewells. Our stay in Ankara was a rewarding experience, educationally and culturally, and we take with us many benefits.

JUNIOR HISTORY

We worked hard this year to raise money for the class trip to Crete. We alternated with the Seniors at selling pop and candy during lunch hour and after school. We sponsored many cake sales which helped to fill the treasury. We also sold green and white school jackets with "Trojans" printed on the back.

We sponsored the Halloween Dance and had as our special guests the Izmir Student Council. The Dinero's from SINOP supplied the music. At the Carnival we had four booths; the Sponge Throw, Slave Market, Horror House and Facts of Life Booth. Our best booths were the Sponge Throw and the Horror House. Mr. Daseler, Mr. Davis, and Mr. Feldman lent their smiling faces for the Sponge Throw.

Barbie Brown and Mary Ellen Dimmock cheered us to victories as Pom Pom Girls. On the basketball team we were represented by Bill Powers, manager, Jim Raab, John Howard, Pete Grundvig, and John Makemson. In soccer we were represented by Ed Rehmann, Ed Loving, Tom Logan, John Chalfant, and Art Walton. Ten of our class were on the track team. On the Honor Roll were Mary Morgan, Madge Graf, Tom Logan, John Chalfant, and Mike McLean.

The highlight of the social calender, the Junior-Senior Prom, was our fanciest production. The soft music, the billowy gowns, the glitter of starlight, climaxed by the crowning of the King and Queen of the Senior Class — all these produced gaiety and excitement that we will long remember. What year could possibly have more meaning than our Junior year at A. H. S.?

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

The Sophomore Class shone this year in every way. In the course of the year it added more members than any other class. There were numerous events on the agenda and the first was the Carnival of November 8. The penny pitch, the baseball throw, the white elephant sale, and the concession stand were our contributions. We earned enough money to finance the Thanksgiving Dance which put everyone in the holiday mood. The Mardi Gras Dance of March 20 found everyone in gay costumes and bright smiles.

We supplied much of the school spirit this year with six out of the seven cheerleaders to our credit. John Marlow deserves special mention. He was on the first string basketball team and also an outstanding scholar.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

First among our Frosh memoirs was Initiation Day. Words can't fully express this harrowing experience. Sweat poured down our ruddy faces. Gum wrappers and candy papers were always being scattered from the supply we had given the Seniors to keep them content. And, of course, we picked them up. If not busy doing that, we were bent over double carrying a stack of books four high from one class to the other, but like all Freshmen we lived through it.

Our part in the Carnival was very successful under the leadership of Eric Hoiberg and Mike Ahern. Wally Baker, Buddy Jones, Sharon Megason, and Buddy Capman were chairmen of the cake walk, bingo, make-up rooms, and nail-driving contest.

Donna Moody represented us in the leadership conference along with our President. Their eloquence was a credit to our class.

Now that the dreaded Freshman year is over, we all look back and see a year of hard work and play. We look forward to even more fun and accomplishment as Sophomores.

EIGHTH GRADE HISTORY

We accomplished much this year in the field of Academic courses. Mr. Silvia, Mrs. Tannebring, Mrs. Todd, and Mr. Ochab guided us through Social Studies, Reading, Arithmetic, Science, and English. We especially enjoyed our field trip on the roof where we learned about the stars. Three days a week we had physical education with Mr. Ochab for the boys and Mrs. Tannebring for the girls. What a relief it was to see the new gym completed. Once a week, Mr. Feldman taught us general music and on other days we had Band or Chorus. Twice a week, we took Turkish so we could understand more about the people and the country. Mr. Homris tried hard to teach us, but many of us didn't make much progress.

On December 19, we had a Christmas party that lasted for three hours. Laurie Fitch, our chairman, worked hard with the various committees to organize the party. Each student donated some money to help pay for the refreshments and the tree. We enjoyed exchanging gifts, too.

The year ended almost before it started. We had fun and learned a lot. Now we have our Freshman year in High School before us. We'll see you next year, different place.

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY

Our first year in Junior High was very enjoyable with its share of fun and work. Our class had the unique honor of being the biggest class in the Junior High. On the more serious side, we had Social Studies, Science, Math, and Literature, in which we studied Shakespeare, and other classics. We also did interesting projects which included murals, maps, and bulletin board arrangements. Very memorable, too, was the field trip to the Etve Balik meat-packing plant. This was part of a Social Studies project.

On the more recreational side, we enjoyed

Chorus, with selections from "Oklahoma!" and others. Band was also available to all who were interested, with both an advanced and beginner's group. Turkish was offered to those who wanted to learn the language. Art was offered the last semester only. Many boys found shop very interesting and valuable. What a perfect course for making Christmas gifts! Both boys and girls enjoyed Home Economics with its successes and failures. The more scholarly members of our class were invited into the Junior Honor Society. This year surely will remain one of our happiest school memories.

STUDENT COUNCIL

During the first week of school this year, the Student Council of Ankara Dependent High School was formed. Its representatives were elected by the student body, and they in turn elected the Council officers.

The highlights of this year's activities were two joint Student Leadership Conferences with Izmir High School's Student Council and class officers. The fall conference was at home; the spring one at Izmir.

Other projects were: the school Carnival; charity drives; school parties; weekly assembly programs; two very successful dances; soccer, basketball, and track meets. In the field of international relations, our Council made good-will visits to the German Embassy School and Turkish schools. It sponsored the International Student Picnic, which was attended by many foreign students.

We are a charter member of the National Association of Student Councils, and are proud of our job of representing and governing the student body. Many thanks to our guiding light, Mr. Jack Daseler.

ANNUAL STAFF

The annual staff has worked long and hard in an attempt to present a lasting memorial of the 1958—59 school year. Early in September we held our first meetings and organized our staff. Work began, planning the dummy's dummy, measuring for the layout, taking pictures and making space for new additions to our classes.

When we came back to school after our Christmas vacation, the expected last minute rush was upon us in earnest. At times we despaired of ever having a finished dummy to turn in. When the deadline arrived the chaos had somehow resolved itself into a semblance of order and we submitted the final products.

We on the staff feel that special thanks are due to our advisers and others who saw us through to the end in spite of "blood, sweat, and tears".

The staff gathers for a gab-fest.

KONUSMAKER

The name of our newspaper the Konusmaker, is derived from the Turkish verb meaning to speak. It was published once a month by a staff consisting of freshmen through seniors. With the able help of our two sponsors, Miss Herbert and Mr. Todd, the Konusmaker improved with every publication.

At times the deadline looked much too close for comfort but our hustlers always came through. At the first meeting the staff decided that the editorship would change hands every issue. This was done in order to enable a greater number of students to get overall newspaper experience including reporting, writing articles, editing, laying out the pages and mimeographing. The assistant editor, elected by the staff, assumed the editorship the succeeding month. We believe this system has achieved its aim. Perhaps some of our staff will be the Journalists of tomorrow.

We want to give particular thanks to Poss Pierce, our first editor, who contributed greatly to this year's Konusmaker and who was absent when these pictures were taken.

PEP CLUB

A new group this year, the Pep Club was organized to promote school spirit and to give grandstand support to the cheerleaders. Headed and organized by the Pom Pom girls and sponsored by Mrs. Tannebring, we concentrated on learning the cheers and yelling them out at the games. The Pom Pom girls, dressed in white, enthusiastically waved their green and white pom-poms while the rest of the club cheered after each basket. We tried our very best to come to every game in order to give the team as much support as possible. The whole club enjoyed attending the games and our cheers proved our joy after each victory. We hope we gave the team more incentive to win with our cheers and our presence at the games.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

Our club was formed in January, 1958. Its members consisted of those boys who had received a letter in any major sport at this school.

From a handful, our members increased as each athletic season ended. The three sports that we participated in and in which we were able to earn letters were: basketball, soccer and track.

Our first project was that of monitoring the lunch room during the high school lunch period. In the spring we had our annual "Open Barn Door" dance and a Father and Son banquet. The money obtained from these projects and others was used toward the payment of the letter sweaters which the lettermen received.

We are grateful to Mr. Ochab, our sponsor, to Mr. Maier, our track coach, and to Mr. Davis and Mr. Daseler, our basketball coaches for the success of our club and the achievment of our many proiects.

CHEERLEADERS

Jennifer Jones Wendy Moffett

Go back to the woods.

Our captain.

The top ten.

Early this fall, after many days of tense anticipation, the day finally came for the final cheerleading tryouts. That all the girls trying out had really worked hard was evident, and we know the decisions must have been difficult to make. Miss Dundas volunteered to sponsor us. She helped us solve our problems which seemed insurmountable. Uniforms were one of our major problems. A place to practice and transportation home from practice were problems easily solved.

We were all new to Ankara this year. As a result we brought new yells from Virginia, Texas, London, and Oregon. If the student body enjoyed our cheerleading as much as we enjoyed performing, then A.H.S. surely has the spirit to make a great school.

This year the soccer team had an even better season than last year. Nevertheless we have yet to beat the Turkish people at their national sport. Among the teams we played were the Ataturk Lycee, the Art College, Mithat Pasha College, Gazi College, and the Maltepe All-Stars. All these teams are excellent and our lack of fundamentals Outstanding offensive performances by Bruce Hoiberg and Art Walton supplemented by ex-cellent defensive play by Wayne Tate and Goalie Herman Groombridge held the team together. During the entire fall season the team improved from a disorganized group of boys to a group of skillful ball handlers with a very strong defense.

If the team continues to improve as it did this year, we can expect many victories in the future.

This year the track season opened under the excellent supervision of Mr. Maier, the physical education instructor. The boys, who went out for the sport, began practicing with the facilities granted us at the local Turkish University. There, the track team practiced for many events including the meters, dashes, broad jumps, high jumps, shot puts, discus throws, and hurdles.

At the frequent track meets, sponsored by the Turkish schools, our track team made good showings and excelled in some events. The highlight of the season was our track meet with Izmir, in the latter part of the season.

The Trojans got off to a good start this year. Our practices began in October with a turnout of about 25 boys from grades 9—12. At first we practiced on the school roof and later we obtained permission to use the Turkish Military Gym. In January our gym was completed, and we used it thereafter.

Our games were played with Air Force teams and Turkish High School teams. We sponsored the Ankara Invitational Tournament, attended one in Izmir, and one in Rome.

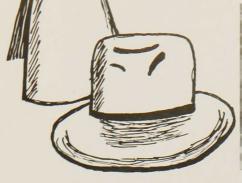

Captain of our team was Bill Dixon with Eb Byrd, John Marlow, Brad Lindsey, George Rigley, John Howard, and Larry Rust forming the first string. These boys were not the champs in the score box, but they represent the highest quality of sportsmanship. We are grateful to our coaches, Mr. Daseler and Mr. Davis, whose advice and good humor kept the team unified and enthusiastic all season.

Time out for strategy.

ALLAHAISMARLADIK

... changing styles

Realizing the importance of good international relations, we at Ankara High have mingled well with our Turkish neighbors. Through basketball and soccer we have come to know the Turkish teen-agers at play. We have exchanged classroom visits, have observed the various ways of arriving at the same conclusions. We debated with Ankara College before a large Turkish-American audience. The International Picnic was a big success again this year. We invited all the Embassies to go with us to Kizilcahamam for an all-day picnic.

We look back upon this school year 1958— 1959 at Ankara High School as a broad education both spiritually and culturally. We will always cherish familiar scenes and landmarks. We have seen a country changing daily before our eyes. We feel privileged to have had a part in that change.

Footsteps Forward

Footsteps Forward

Since the beginning of time, a road winding into the distance has beckoned man. From the rustic trails to the west in a new country, to the silver trail of the rocket arching across the sky, men have been moving forward; and so must we.

Our own personal trails, which are just as important as those of our forefathers, can only dimly be seen ahead. We can only go forward doing the best we can and profiting by our mistakes.

The first step we take on our trail is one guided by our parents as they will guide us for many years. We move slowly along through our early years learning the basic lessons: how to get along with others, the importance of hard work, respect for authority, and the facts from our books. All these years are preparatory to another big step — the one from childhood to adulthood.

We realize that from then on we are actually working day by day toward the future. But we might look back, even as we look forward. We have gone far with the help of our parents, the school, and God. Who knows where our trails will lead? None but ourselves knows where our footsteps will take us.

Lighter moments to remember at B. H. S.

Four years is a very short span of time in anyone's life; but, when those four years are the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior years of high school, they can be the most enjoyable and rewarding years of a person's life. At no other time will four consecutive years be devoted solely to the development and enrichment of a budding adult personality with so much emphasis on him, his problems and his accomplishments. This is the magic time when he can leave behind the anonymity of childhood and step into the spotlight of high school before entering the often incognizant surroundings of adult life.

At no other time can the glory of being a football hero burn so pure and bright, can the wonder of being pretty mean so much to a girl, and the awakening of knowledge in a boy be so new and fresh and wonderful.

High school is the time to prove one's self; for funny little Tom Jones to win a scholarship, and John Smith to become a football hero and scrawny little Edna to turn into an attractive young lady.

The world becomes a school house and there is beauty in a patched notebook, grace in a hobby sock, hope in a 100 pound halfback, art in a biology lab, and magic in the words "No homework!"

The purpose of high school is to learn. Learning not only in the sense of algebra and Latin but also learning about one's abilities and possibilities. This is a time for shaping ideals and standards and learning the amazing fact that never occured to you before that other people have the same faults and ideas and dreams as you do.

Each succeeding year brings something new, something to make you a little bit wiser and a little bit older, until eventually there comes the sum of it all — the realization of maturity.

These are preparation years, but they are also something more. These are years to be lived to the fullest, academically and socially — — —

--- and to be remembered forever

Burtonwood Memories Are Ten Years Long

From the windows of Burtonwood American High School we can see not only typical airbase activities but rural, historic, and industrial scenes also. In the distance is an ancient church spire; toward Warrington are factory chimneys; across the fence is a green field; beyond are woods. On the base itself are many beauty spots, several houses of historic interest.

June, 1959, marks the end of the tenth year of school for boys and girls here, the ninth for senior high school pupils. At least one of us recalls September, 1949, when one building housed elementary classes in the only Air Force school in Area I at that time. Many more recall recent years when classrooms bulged and our over-all enrollment exceeded eight hundred. During this decade more than ten thousand elementary and high school pupils have attended here; forty-six seniors have already graduated.

Many of us remember the scattered olive-green buildings where we attended until September, 1957. This year one hundred forty-seven of us, grades seven through twelve, began lessons with thirteen teachers for a second year in our new school with its salmon pink halls, black wrought iron staircase, — and new lockers.

Against a background of familiar Burtonwood scenes we present our administrators, teachers, and classmates and show our classrooms and activities from September, 1958, until June, 1959, in our section of Vapor Trails.

Seniors Discuss School Tour

WILL REMEMBER BURTONWOOD

Five seniors made up the Class of 1959. Their memories will always turn to Burtonwood, for one has attended no other high school, a second came as a sophomore, and two of the three who left in December were freshmen here. The third who stayed four months knew everyone.

To help with college plans, the class took the Senior Scholastic Aptitude Test with the juniors in the early autumn. Daily lessons included English, Government, Physics, and other courses.

Not even seniors study constantly! Pupils who left include a basketball player and a Student Council representative. Of those remaining, one was Student Council president, yearbook business manager, and a Pep Club member. The other played basketball, was photography editor, and acted in a Junior class play! Seniors saw Romeo and Juliet at Stratford-upon-Avon and A Midsummer Night's Dream locally; two went on the Easter tour. They sponsored freshman initiation in the fall and reigned over the Prom in the spring.

They want to say thank you to all their teachers — to those they have known only as seniors and to Mrs. Edna Leigh and to Mr. Kenneth Nuttall who have led them through years of homerooms, classes, and activities — and to their principal, Dr. DelRae Christiansen.

JUNIORS WELL-ACQUAINTED

In September twelve juniors — ten who had been here as freshmen, one who came as a sophomore, and one newcomer - commenced their third high school year. The class was together daily for English III and American History and met others in the school in Physics, Typing, Mathematics, and other courses.

In school affairs the class holds prominent positions. These include the editor, assistant editor, and two photographers for the Yearbook;

Sharon Baker Sylvia Ford

Charlene Head Alice Henry

two cheerleaders, one the captain; two players on the basketball team; the vice-president and the treasurer of the Student Council; the girl chairman of the Junior Red Cross, who attended the Training Center in Germany in August; and the captain of the Pep Club.

Directed by their homeroom teacher, Mrs. Edna Leigh, the class produced two plays: "A Ghost in the House" for the October Carnival and The Saturday Evening Ghost by Oscar Wilde in the spring as a fund-raising project for the Prom. In November the class revisited Stratford-upon-Avon, some went upon the school's tour to Austria at Easter, and now everyone is counting the days until tests are over and the members of the class can hope to hear that long-awaited title -SENIOR!

SOPHOMORES ARE OLD PALS

Twenty-two sophomores, nineteen who were here as freshmen, commenced their struggles with French, English, Geometry, World History, Biology, and other subjects in September and waited eagerly for November and the trip to see Romeo and Juliet at Stratford-upon-Avon. Soon they were studying Julius Caesar which most had seen there in 1957.

Sophomore boys played basketball; three girls were cheerleaders; some worked on the Yearbook, among these the literary and layout editors; others were with Junior Red Cross, Library Club, Pep Club, and Student Council — one as secretary. Several went to Austria at Easter. They had two parties.

They are now looking forward to being juniors and are feeling appreciative of their patient teachers and their homeroom sponsor, Mr. Kenneth Nuttall.

FRESHMEN NOT REALLY "NEW"

Nineteen old friends and two newcomers plunged into classwork in September, were only slightly subdued by an initiation, and were soon represented in sports, school government, Junior Red Cross, and Yearbook. In November they went to see Romeo and Juliet at Stratford-upon Avon, and as they struggled with English and Algebra - but NEVER worried about passing, the first semester drew to a close. In February their sponsor, Mr. Robert Nyquist, commenced to teach boys' Physical Education, and they met Mr. Kenneth Nuttall in World Geography class instead. With the Easter tour done, final examinations are next. To all their teachers and to Mr. Nyquist the class says, "Thank you".

Kittel, Vice-President; Mrs. M. Lennon, Treasurer; Major R. F. Vengelen, Secretary; with Mrs. F. Eisner and Mrs. J. A. Heaton, committee chairmen.

Charles Heaton was Mr. Meredith; Virgil Lawrence and Thomas Whittenberg, Bob; John Wheeler, Mr. Newman; Sandra Christiansen, Charlene Head, and Linda Harris, Margie; and Sylvia Ford, Mrs. Potter.

The Student Council directed an informal Halloween dance on October 31.

School Revisits Stratford=upon=Avon

"We're really here!" exclaimed Burtonwood students in November when they made a trip to Stratford-upon-Avon, this year to see Romeo and Juliet at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre.

A FREQUENTED SHRINE Shakespeare's grave is always a tourist attraction. In the center front is Sandra Hutchinson, sophomore.

Sightseeing was first. In the Holy Trinity Church they noted the epitaph on Shakespeare's grave which states that anyone who opens it will be cursed! Naturally, no one ever has! Also enjoyed were the swans on the Avon. Best of all was the play. For those who like humor, there was the witty Mercutio and the funny old Nurse. For those who like adventure, there were the daring street fights between the Montagues and Capulets. For those who like romance, there was Romeo and Juliet!

YEARBOOK STAFF BEFRIENDS ALL

For some of us this is and for others it may be our last opportunity to work with our beloved Vapor Trails, so we have tried to put our all into this project - plus a little more. Last year we vowed to escape that last minute rush and scuffle, but we have found that no matter what one does, there is no avoiding it!

When school started, Mrs. Edna Leigh, our sponsor, said, "Work", and work we did planning, replanning, writing, erasing, typing, retyping, taking pictures, developing, and choosing them. We "inspired" everyone to write competitive articles - thanks to Mrs. Leigh's and Mr. Kenneth Nuttall's assignments in English classes! We had the subscription campaign, too, estimates for copies before that, and posters and announcements galore.

We had our dark moments. For six weeks our business manager tore her hair over two misplaced negatives; fog or snow invariably arrived on Yearbook evenings; and the day we arranged for final pictures, we wondered whether the photographer could find us in the haze!

It pleases us to think that, because of our project, wherever we ourselves and our friends may be in years to come we can always get out our copies of Vapor Trails, 1959, and recall the many, many happy days we spent at Burtonwood High School.

COUNCIL BUILDS RELATIONS

Sponsoring a Youth Week, conducting a toy drive for a children's hospital, arranging freshman initiation, and building better relations among students, faculty, and community, the Student Council worked all year with their sponsor, Miss Donna Duerr. They raised funds for dances given teams from London and Iceland and for Christmas and Valentine's parties. After a thrilling week of petitions, wall-to-wall posters fixed with whole rolls of tape, and campaign schemes, officers were elected in the fall.

Librarians Serve School

Library Club members learned to arrange books according to the Dewey Decimal system, to mend them, and to check them in and out. The club visited the Warrington Public Library. Planning for Junior Red Cross began when Alice Henry and Shand Tillman attended the Training Center at Chiemsee, Germany, in August, where they heard talks by officials and exchanged ideas with other students. The organization sponsored a clothing drive for an orphanage, made gift boxes, collected aluminum foil, and decorated at the hospital.

December Highlights: "Inow and fir Trees"

The Christmas formal was held in the gymnasium on December 12. Brenda Farmer headed a decorations committee; Miss Donna Duerr was sponsor. Pupils, teachers, and guests attended. Entertaining with songs like "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands" and "Tom Dooley" were singers Vicki Harrell and Jim Heider with his guitar.

Mr. Douglas Haag's band chose and crowned Cecilia Hurd, sophomore, as Snow Queen. Her crown and banner were made by Annette Thibodeau, Vicki, and Jane Horrocks. Dressed in a snowy white ballerina length formal and silver slippers, Cecilia was a charming Snow Queen. After a glamorous night of fun, we wished one another "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year".

"The Christmas Carol Pageant"

A choir of one-hundred-and-fifty voices presented "The Christmas Carol Pageant", Mr. Keith Groethe, director, on December 17. Sixth, seventh, and eighth graders wore surplices and red ties; the Girls' Glee Club, their blue choir robes. Mr. Raymond White and his art classes made the stage setting. Pantomime told the Christmas story, with Daniel Bedell, reader. Julia Dill and Lynda Wells sang solos such as "A Child Thou Art" and "See the Dear Little Jesus". The choir sang carols such as "I Saw Three Ships" and "The Holly and the Ivy".

High school pupils may be seen in the center section

"I want some!" demands Vicki.

"I knew I hit something!" beams Chuck.

"You don't say!" states Miss Finocchi.

"One down, four to go", Jay moans.

"Now, I wonder . . ." ponders Chuck.

"What's your reasoning?" asks Richard.

"I hate rock n' roll!" says Mrs. Leigh.

"H-m-m-m", murmurs Mrs. Bellarts.

It's easy, John. Even a child can do it! Come on, try!

"Catch", someone yells. And Jane is ready. But - does she?

"What else can we put in?" inquires Julia. "We have a kitchen sink yet", Lynda replies.

"Hasn't it gone quiet in the corridors!" observes Miss Roberts. "I wonder why!" puzzles Mr. Jarboe.

In mid-February the Devils met Keflavik High School from Keflavik Air Force Base, Iceland; the games were evenly matched and exciting. Early in the year A/2 C James Akins led some of the boys in a mixed team of high school pupils and graduates through twenty-three games in the Base Intramural League. Thus the Devils had three coaches!

Captained by Sharon Baker with Cecilia Hurd, secretary, the Pep Club attended games and cheered.

Cheerleaders Attend All Games

Directed by Miss Donna Duerr, the cheerleaders promoted school spirit, attended all high school games, and also cheered at Base League basketball and football games. Their uniforms, which they also wore to school on days games were to be played, were red corduroy skirts lined with white satin, white V-neck sweaters with red dickeys, easily identified. The Pep Club wore red skirts and beanies and white blouses.

Command Decisions!

A way out!

Don't judge a book by its cover!

Prior to the summer of 1942, the Bushy Park Air Force Base area was the Royal Deer Park of the Hampton Court Palace. At this time, the Eighth Air Force, a unit of the Army Air Forces, set up its Headquarters in what is now referred to as "A" Block. By August, the Eighth Air Force Service Command, a sub-unit of the Eighth Air Force, was installed in the newly completed "B" Block, which is now the High School building. "C" and "D" Blocks, present day Elementary School and dormitory areas, were finished one year later.

In January, 1944, General Dwight D. Eisenhower was designated Supreme Commander of the Allied Expeditionary Forces, and established his Headquarters at Bushy Park. This organization, known as SHAEF, occupied "C" and "D" Blocks, and certain outlying buildings, some of which have now disappeared. The Eighth Air Force organizations previously mentioned were redesignated as Headquarters United States Strategic Air Force in Europe, and Headquarters of the Air Service Command, respectively. Shortly after D-Day, in June 1944, all these Headquarters moved to France.

Bushy took on the aspect of a miniature Grand Central Station. Among the group of VIPs were such famous people as Churchill, George VI, Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, General Spaatz, General Patton, Lord Tedder, General De Gaulle, and many others.

Mmmm - AFEX!

... and more AFEX

The base was reputed to be number two on the priority list of Nazi bombing targets, second only to the Houses of Parliament, and as a result, was getting many little presents from the sky. We are inclined to regard the bomb shelters around the base as part of the scenery, but in 1944, base personnel took a different view. There were always the V-1 pilotless bombs that flew overhead. Fortunately, they never hit the base, but there were several near misses.

After the war, the base was returned to the British. Seven years ago, the old buildings, "B" and "C" Blocks, were converted into Dependents School, and Central High was "born". The school had a cafeteria, which had been one of the old wartime Officers' Messes. "D" Block became the "home away from home" for our dormitory students. The school has still not stopped growing, and every year, in September, we find workmen feverishly trying to finish new rooms or repairing electrical circuits. During the first three years, even the teachers helped the workers. By 1958 the school had 601 students, and the old NCO Club, formerly at one end of the building, was converted into a new school wing. This year students returned to find a new locker room and a "Tom Thumb PX" installed and waiting.

Central has come a long way since 1951. The situation seems to improve constantly. We don't mean to boast, but Centralites feel that "our school" is absolutely tops!

For "afters" we have the "Tom Thumb PX"

We also have a library—used at times by Seniors

Juniors

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

It's been a good year for Central's Juniors, despite the dubious pleasures of the chem lab, Henry David Thoreau, and the Civil War. It was more or less a changeover year, with the arrival of so many new faculty members and students, and a whole new wing added to the building.

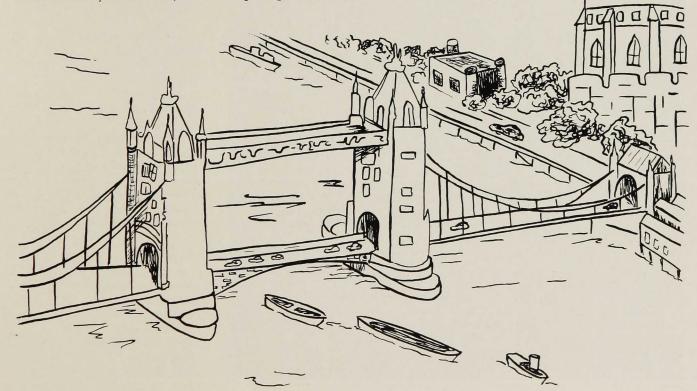

The student participation in class elections was more enthusiastic than ever, and this active interest continued on all year long. Our Junior Class Officers, Wendy Johnson, Steve Kendall, Judy Walcavitch, and Rick Wheeler, did an excellent job.

The big problem was, as usual, how to make money for the various activities. In addition to the regular cake sales, dances, and variety show, we tried something new, selling plastic-coated bookcovers in the school colors. The Ways and Means Committee took pity on starving town students, and sold snacks to them on the buses.

Anyone wandering into the Junior Review rehearsals in March will find himself in a model television studio. This year's production is to be a satire on a famous television variety show, and the cast is working hard to make it a good one. We don't mean to boast, but Ed Sullivan, himself, might gain a few pointers.

The Junior-Senior Prom will be here before people have time to get the greasepaint out of their systems. The plans are wonderful, as usual, and a fitting climax to the year. Then it will be June, and vacation time.

These are only the highlights. There were countless other little things which made 1959 a memorable year for the juniors. Keep it up, Central!

About Our Home Away From Home

Because of the population increases of Thames Hall, a new annex was added during the summer.

Accordingly, on September 4th, we arrived with our suitcases stuffed with cheese crackers (for the mice), bermuda shorts, four or five pictures of the summer's boy friend, and a year's supply of intellectual reading material, i. e., True Romance.

Our supervisors welcomed us at the door, ate some cheese crackers, admired our boy friends' pictures, and at the end of the day Miss Gallagher, Miss Corton, and Mrs. Grace were the possessors of 634 copies of True Romance.

Our Dormitory Administrator, Miss Honaker, welcomed us officially that night and told us about the dormitory program for the year.

During the first week, we were little angels, and therefore, early birds; a week later, a girl considered herself lucky if she got up by 8:15 AM (morning announcements). In October, our dormitory council officers were elected. In addition to our very excellent President, Judy Buning; Judy Samms was elected Vice-President; Brenda Hickman, Secretary; and Nancy Carder, Treasurer. Virginia Ersch was elected Judge of the Judiciary Council. There are 13 girls on this student-operated court.

Our supervisors regularly arrange shopping and theater tours for us. Besides movies and dances, ice skating and swimming parties are weekly routine for girls who are interested.

At the beginning of the year, all juniors and seniors become big sister to a freshman or sophomore. The upperclassmen help their little sisters with their problems, even though the older girls sometimes can't solve their own.

Our home away from home is providing us with experiences we won't easily forget.

Hampton Hall, with seven wings and an annex (newly added), is home for 160 boys at Bushy Park.

The administration underwent a change this year as Mr. Glenn Noble became the dormitory administrator. Under his direction, Mr. Munro, the head supervisor, and the other supervisors, Mr. Slater, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Joyce, Mr. Houston, Mr. Leighton, and Mr. Pickstock do their best to keep the boys occupied and out of mischief. To help in this worthy project, several dormitory activities have been in operation since the beginning of the year. Mr. Houston coaches the Rugby team; Mr. Slater, the Soccer team; and the Coach takes care of the football, basketball, etc. For recreation, we have movies and dances almost every week, and a teenage club which is open certain hours every day.

The seven wings are divided into the various classes—freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior; consequently, there is always inter-wing rivalry. Many times out and out "warfare" develops, but the older boys usually win.

One favorite trick trick of the younger members is to steal the mascot or plaque from the junior or senior wing and display it proudly in their own wing . . . at least for a little while. At 7:15 every morning, you are likely to hear grumbles and complaints loudly voiced as the rising bell awakens the boys to a new day; and by 7:30 the blare of radios and record players drowns out all conversation.

The most sacred and fought over place in the dormitory is the telephone in the main hall, by which the girls' dorm may be contacted.

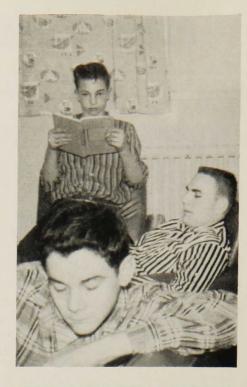

The student government of the dormitory consists of the House Council, which makes the rules of the dormitory, and the Student Court, which handles any infringement of the rules.

Several times during the year our supervisors take us to London to shows or plays; and it is traditional to go on a three-day camp out near the end of the year.

There are two, three, and four men rooms, (the senior wing has five to a room) and the beginning of the year is always hectic with everyone's moving about trying to get into a room with his friends. After the way of life settles down, the one prayer in the heart of every dorm member is that a fog day will soon come, and many, many times you can hear someone offering prayers to the great Fog God, hoping to influence him.

The biggest highlights of the year are the few and far between times when we have an open house, and can bring the girls over to proclaim . . . "This is my room".

Cheerleaders

November 13 was the climax of several weeks' hard work by the ten girls who were trying out for cheerleading. This top ten had been chosen earlier by the faculty and some of the Senior Class Officers. The girls practiced faithfully, and often during 6th period, the school yells could be heard resounding through the halls. But at last came election day. Karen Kurtz, Noel Ahlbum, Doree Coleman, Jackie Bland, and Janet Bode were the five lucky finalists; Barbara McClosky was chosen to be the alternate.

Girls' Athletic Association

This club is an organization for all girls interested in sports, and there are sixty girls under the supervision of Miss Williams.

The main objectives of the girls are to earn points for a school emblem through participation in athletic events and to raise money for the G.A.A. For example, the girls vs. faculty volleyball game

Let's face it — they got class!

Defying the Law of gravity offered points for the players, money for the G.A.A. and hilarious entertainment for the student body.

Some sports participated in during the second semester included pingpong and bowling tour-naments.

Pep Club

The Central High Pep Club consists of sixty members. The officers are Libby Estes, President; Carol Farmer, Vice-Presi-dent; Elsa Colman, Treasurer; and Ann Nagle, Secretary. Miss Gussie Williams is the sponsor. The objectives of the Pep Club are to promote school spirit, and to give our teams moral support. The Club is also sponsoring various projects to finance the basketball team's trip to the tournament in Germany. These include a shoe-shine project, pickle sales, and selling refreshments at the games.

Aw — they're beating us!

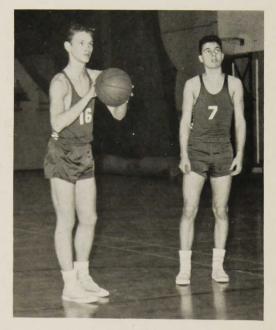

Basketball

The basketball season started a bit later than usual this year. Coach Lewis believes that the season starting late should enable the team to reach their peak for the European High School tournment in Germany. The Bobcats will have their hands full this year playing experienced squadron teams. We are confident that they will succeed in making this their best year, though. Although there were few returning lettermen, Coach Lewis has shaped the potential into a fighting ball club.

Lettermen Club

This year, for the first time in Central's history, the Lettermen, in varsity sports, are given their place of honor in the schools' club program. Under the leadership of Mr. Taylor Lewis, the club has done much to support athletics at Central.

The Constitution was drafted by a select committee and approved by the Lettermen's Club as a whole.

The first fund-raising campaign of the club was a volleyball game between the faculty members and the lettermen. The game was a great success but due to weather conditions the faculty won. The next and biggest campaign was the sale of booster tickets to build up the athletic fund, and we are well on our way of reaching our goal of one thousand dollars.

Soccer

This year the Soccer team which contains several of last year's lettermen, should be very successful in its regular school matches. However, our schedule with the local schools has not yet begun and we have been playing nearby amateurs.

Football

Stand back! They may explode!

Although this is the first year that Central High has been able to have a football team, it was a very successful season. The competition was pretty stiff as they played G. I. squadron teams. This did not daunt the game Centralites, however, for they finished the season with a fine record; 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Coach Taylor Lewis taught the boys a new type of football. Most of the boys were used to playing tackle, but he converted them to fine flag football players. Central is sure to have an even better football team next year.

Keep cool boys - real cool!

Rugby

The Bushy Park Rugby team is the only American Rugby team in Europe. The fifteen Central High students who compose this team play against British teams that are sometimes skeptical about Americans playing the English sport. After the game is over, however, every team has to admit that the Americans are not a team to be laughed at.

A statement made by the sports editor of the Rugby Observer supports this by saying: "After scoring a total of 100 points without being scored against, Bourne Secondary Modern School received a severe jolt when they found themselves losing 8—5 at half time to Central High from Bushy Park. To make matters more embarrasing to the Bourne team, the Americans were playing with only fourteen men."

Mr. Houston is the man who does the coaching.

Student Council

President: Mike Hall

Vice-President: Bob Ruffin

Treasurer: Barbara McClosky

Secretary: Anita Sewell

Even more enthusiasm than usual was shown in the campaign and election of Student Council officers and representatives this year. The school had grown; there were many new students, several new faculty members, and a new administration, and it was evident that there were things to be done, so, of course, the student body wanted the best representatives available.

The first election resulted in a tie between Mike Hall and Bob Stephenson for President; Mike won the revote. Bob Ruffin was elected Vice-President; Anita Sewell, Secretary; and Barbara McClosky, Treasurer. Working with Lieutenant Colonel Rogers, the Base Commander, and Mr. Matthews, the Principal, the Student Council has tried to improve conditions around the school. They also arranged to have the Teen Club open during the lunch periods, and organized a Teen Club patrol. The Student Council lent their assistance to those who were raising money to send the basketball team to the tournament. Included in their fund raising activities were the raffle of a portable radio, and the sale of student directories.

One of the highlights on the social calendar for the second semester is, of course, "Twirp Day".

National Honor Society

Members of the National Honor Society

"High scholarship, worthy service, energetic leadership"

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to give recognition to the students who have excelled in Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and the development of Character.

To qualify, a student must maintain at least a B average. It also is necessary for a person to attend Central High School for at least one semester before he is eligible to become a member of NHS. The officers for 1958—59 are: President, Fred Milburn; Vice-President, John Wiles; Secretary, Charlotte Biggers; and Treasurer, Elaine Lewis. The faculty sponsor is Miss Sutton.

The Fall and Spring induction ceremonies are red letter days on the NHS calendar, as is the field trip which is usually taken during the second semester.

Photography Club

Photographers being photographed — and loving it?!

1st Prize Contest Winner Eugene Lippa, Photographer

The Photography Club, one of Central's "technical" clubs, is tucked back in Room 117. It is sponsored by Mr. Billington and has one officer, Steve Gosling, who acts as President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, and chief cook and bottle washer.

The club's many activities include developing and printing negatives, discussing the pros and cons of Polaroid cameras, and different types of flash bulbs. We also hold a photography contest for the school.

Anyone passing the small bulletin board near 117 can see some of the club's work. The pictures displayed there are for sale. The aim of the club is to learn the art of taking good pictures.

2nd Prize Contest Winner Jim Heck, Photographer

Personal Typing

Do you know what cylinder knobs, line-space gauges, and carriage releasers are? Mr. Bernardi's busy Personal Typing Club is finding out — and fast!

Slowly but surely, we learned the keys and by practicing the lessons assigned in the typing books, we finally began to resemble a typist.

The aim of the club is in its name - we want to learn to type!

Record Club

The club got off to a good start under the capable supervision of Miss Fenimore. Officers elected at the second meeting were: President, Dave Sellars; Vice-President, Maureen Whitman; Treasurer, Frank Schrieber; and Secretary, Joyce Vickers.

As soon as he was elected, the treasurer began collecting weekly dues to be used for various activities during the year.

The club's main purpose is to listen to and discuss various kinds of music and different recording artists and styles.

Club members are planning a dance in the near future.

Junior Red Cross

This year, with Miss McFadden as sponsor, the Red Cross Club has been searching for ways to obtain money for a school chest. At the moment, we are busy with cookie sales from which we hope to obtain money to buy supplies for the chest. At the same time, together with the British Red Cross, we are planning a party for a spastics home.

Officers of the club are: President, John Hoberg; Vice-President, Alan Anderson; Treasurer, Brenda Hickman; and Secretary, Lynn Thomas.

The club includes a representative from each homeroom. Members of the club have received pins and badges.

German Club

Mr. Folley and Associates

The German Club is a relatively small club of about six members. At meetings, we listen to German records, talk about customs and habits, and see films concerning Germany. We have a library of about a dozen German magazines which are at the disposal of any member of the club. In the near future we plan to venture into London to see a German film or play.

The club is sponsored by Mr. Folley. The officers are Dennis Schurter, President and Otto Wyse, Treasurer.

Latin Club

The Latin Club consists of a dozen students this year. Under the guidance of Miss Fenimore they are attempting to learn more about the history of this interesting language.

In order to thoroughly learn a language you must become acquainted with its background, this is the main objective of the Latin Club. Reports are given each week on the different aspects of Roman life, and some field trips have been planned.

Miss Fenimore and Members

French Club

"We love Paris" may well be inscribed upon the coat of arms of the French Club. Under the supervision of Mr. Guy Mitchell, the members find themselves appreciating the colorful aspects of French life, e. g. food, perfume, fashions, as well as the more profound testimonials to French civilazation e. g. the Louvre, the Arch of Triumph, Champs Elysees, Comedie Francaise, and the glories that are French, and more specifically, Parisian. In the meantime, the "joie de vivre" of our French Club is expressed by means of records, magazine articles, and the uninhibited practice of the somewhat fractured accents asking "Avezvous la plume de ma tante?"

Spanish Club

The object of the Spanish Club is to learn more about the culture of Spain. Spanish magazines are bought almost every week, and plans are in progress for a trip to a Spanish restaurant.

One of the more ambitious projects of the Club is to take a trip to Spain in April or May, so that we can get first-hand knowledge of the Spanish way of life.

Mr. Folley is the Spanish Club sponsor. Dave Leaner is the President; Mercedes Kelly, Treasurer; Carol Chrones, Assistant Treasurer, and Sandy Kleuh, Secretary.

Rocket Club

Sponsor . . . Mr. Abell

First Semester President . . . Robert Harrold Vice-President Lee Beach Treasurer . . Joe Bonebrake Librarian . . . David DeMoody Second Semester President . . . Gabriel Thomas Vice President Lim Hade

This is the first year for the Rocket Club, and with the help of Mr. Abell, the Commander, and the U. S. Air Force, the club has begun several group projects.

The club plans to launch at least one successful rocket, and later an instrumented one.

So far they have made a lot of progress, and if the club finishes out the year as planned, next year should promise interesting developments.

Beginning Science

The future scientists of America are well represented in Central High's Beginning Science Club. The Club is divided into several committees, each one working on projects concerning different phases of science. For example, the electronics committee made an electric generator, while the medical committee experimented with germ cultures. The Club's officers are Mike Oldham, President; Pete Henry, Vice-President; and Robin Todd, Secretary-Treasurer. The Club is under Mr. Tampke's able sponsorship.

Math Club

Needless to say, the members of the Math Club are "A" or at least "B" students. This is probably one of the contributing factors to the size of this organization. Mrs. Bidleman, who sponsors the club, also teaches Solid and Plane Geometry and Trigonometry. At present, the club is working on models, such as building geometric figures and constructions.

Model Airplane Club

The Model Airplane Club, sponsored by Mr. Massey, consists of thirty-four members, including the officers. Lee Alton is President; Bob Hornsby, Vice-President; and Jim Crain, Secretary.

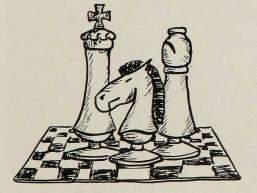

Members use the playground for flying their models. Those who do not own planes use the club's models, and learn techniques from members who have had previous experience.

Members of the Club use the school woodshop to build models, but the club has its own tools, fuel, and battery.

Chess Club

On activities day silence is king as the thirty members of the Chess Club ponder their way out of a trap or cunningly plotted strategy. The Chess Club, newly organized this year, chose Jerry Lane as President, Robert Sherman as Vice-President, George Phillips as Secretary, and William Donavan as Treasurer. The club is sponsored by Mr. Little.

Getting ready to cut-up

Opening of the Teen Club

October 27th, 1958, was a red letter day for Central High. At 4:00 P. M. Lieutenant Colonel Frank Rodgers, Base Commander cut the ribbon and officially opened the Bushy Park Teen Age Club.

After the mad rush subsided, Colonel Rodgers and Mr. Matthews stepped behind the snack bar and served ice cream to the students. Hamburgers and hotdogs were on sale for the hungry ones. To add to the excitement, the eager Coke machine threatened to drown everyone in carbonated water until the pressure was turned down!

The club, now open during lunch periods and after school, is a popular place.

Our help come well-recommended

Drama Club

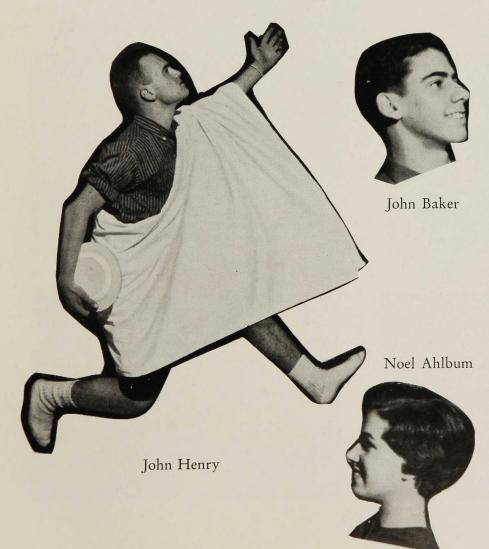

This year the Drama Club has fifty members. The officers are as follows: President, Jean Lack; Vice-President, Rusty Hockett; Treasurer, Rick Wheeler; and Secretary, Janice Steuben. The Club is sponsored by Mr. Rubin and Mr. Wernette.

The Club presented the play, Sorry, Wrong Number. Mr. Wernette coached the cast. Mr. Rubin conducted a drama laboratory, where students discussed techniques of acting and performed in brief scenes.

Students also attended several plays at London theaters.

Right Cast for Wrong Number

Senior Play

Mr. Law will be using the megaphone while the Senior Class prepares for production You Can't Take It with You, a comedy in 3 acts by George Kaufman and Moss Hart. The student director (the fellow who carries the megaphone) will be Bob Stephenson. The stellar cast includes Marion Pratt, Virginia Gelling, Carl Chatfield, John Henry, Scott McLaughlin, Doris Hayes, Fred Milburn, Dick Hesse, John Baker, Edward Robinson, Alex Schneider, Sue Sweeney, Steve King, Georgann Coleman, Bob Ruffin, Jerry Hoffman, Mike Hall and Charlotte Biggers. The Plot - the adventures, or rather misadventures of an eccentric but lovable family.

"Christmas By Candlelight"

The annual Christmas Formal in London was given this year by a new host, the West Ruislip Teen Age Club. The decor in the club's beautiful ballroom was softly suggestive of an evening just for two, in keeping with the "Christmas By Candlelight" theme of the dance. A real dash of English color was added by the presence of the Toastmaster, who began the evening by formally announcing each couple to the club president, Julie Williams, and her escort, and to Mr. and Mrs. Oberg, club sponsors.

Other highlights of the evening were a delicious 5-course dinner and entertainment from two of the top popular T. V. shows in England. Later, our cheerful Toastmaster was back again to crown Judy Tucker, Queen of the Dance and to present Sharon Zink and Julie Williams, her attendants, with bouquets. Much . . . much later (also much to the general regret) he called "last dance of the evening".

Newspaper

The staff of the HIGH TIMES has the responsible job of keeping Centralites informed about inter-school activities and events taking place in the London area. The paper comes out each month, and between publications the staff can be seen hurriedly gathering information for feature articles, editorials, and columns. Emily Lane has proved to be a very efficient Editor in Chief, and Pat Phillips does an admirable job of supporting her as Assistant Editor. Miss Martin is the club sponsor, and supervises the complicated work involved in producing a newspaper.

"All the news that's fit to print"

Hall Patrol

Ray Chorney and Anne Hallowell are the two Seniors in charge of the Hall Patrol. They have put a lot of time and work into organizing the group of students on duty so that the system works smoothly and efficiently.

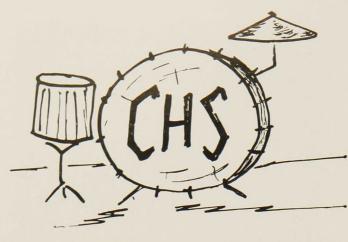

There are six posts in the building and all are manned during the two lunch periods. At other times, only four are in operation. The objective of the patrol is to cut noise to a minimum so that classes are not disturbed while in session.

Through the cooperation of both student body and faculty members, we feel that this objective has been achieved.

Central's Music Makers

Music to sooth the "savage" Centralites is provided by both the Band and Chorus, under the able direction of Maestro Vincent Stranieri. The Band led the Hallowe'en Parade for the Elementary School, and both Band and Chorus have hit the right notes for the Christmas assembly. Music Night, a spring concert, is next on the agenda.

FRANCE IS OUR HOME

Chateauroux High School, representing France among the Air Force Schools, is located in the heart of the Chateaux country and is only two hours from Paris by train.

To many of us the true essence of France is revealed most completely in the city of Paris. In Paris one can sit in a sidewalk cafe and be a part of the sophistication of the city. Or one can take a walk and browse through the bookstalls on the Seine. The color and vitality of life in Paris is an integral part of our life in Chateauroux. Through these pages we attempt to reproduce this spirit. Chateauroux High School itself has had many improvements and changes in the past year. Chateauroux High School for the first time has not had a dormitory. This increased space allowed us to add a girls' dressing and shower room. In addition shop facilities were enlarged. Our science department has also grown with the addition of the "Hall of Science". An increased respect for the school has been exhibited through student behaviour and school spirit. We are proud of our school, the students and the faculty.

OUR BEST YEAR

The Class of '59 began this fall with much expectation. At last we had attained the status of "senior". And we strove to make our last year our best one.

One of the first things we accomplished as a group was the election of officers. Curtis Truel, president; Mike Park, vice-president; Marie Hupp, secretary; and Hayes Huddleston, treasurer. Under their capable leadership the class began working toward the class trip to Rome, Italy. The largest undertaking to realize this goal was the annual Christmas ball with the theme "White Christmas". The decoration committee did a marvelous job in converting the Chad Teen Club into a snow-covered land of fantasy. Everyone enjoyed himself, both in working on the dance and in attending it.

When the Christmas holidays were over, the time began to fly; and soon June and graduation were here. Many thanks to Miss Scharpf and Mr. Chaffee who aided us in our every undertaking. We know that without their advice and assistance our plans would not have materialized. Our year as seniors was made "our best one" through the interest and understanding of our wonderful advisers.

The graduating class of '59 bids farewell to all the people who have made this year the most memorable of all. We hope that the future graduating classes will have as wonderful a senior year.

As juniors we have had a wonderful year and we wish to thank our sponsors, Miss Perta and Mr. Knoepfel, for their aid in making it so.

We have had a busy year and have been well represented in all school activities, especially in the field of sports. Juniors, Ed Whitmer and Mike Brown, were co-captains of the football and basketball teams respectively. Two of our girls were cheerleaders, Diane Rosedale and Donna Sage.

One of our most memorable events, and one which we will never forget, was this year's Junior-Senior-prom! We all worked extremely hard to achieve our prom's great success. In order to raise the necessary money we sponsored a play entitled "The Curious Savage", and a number of sock-hops. At the head of our endeavours were President Peter Ryan; Vice-President Scarlett Mullins; Secretary Penny Sommerville; and Treasurer Donna Sage.

We are now looking anxiously forward to our next and last high school year as seniors.

SOPHOMORES

Lee Dearman, Secretary; Gary Mucho, Vice-President; Bryce Mitchell, President; Sharry Bergendahl, Treasurer

After living with the title "lowly frosh" for a year all of us were glad to graduate to the rank of sophomores.

We boasted all year that we were the biggest and best class in school. We were well represented in the sports department. Sophomores on the football team included such stars as Louis Barnett and Ted Cooper. Larry Oyler, Bill Hole, Joe Richards, and Dave Garrison held the spotlight in basketball. Judy King was the sophomore representative on the cheerleading squad. The first thing we accomplished as a group was the election of class officers and student representatives. Soon after Christmas we began planning the Valentine dance. We chose "Cupid's Capers" as the theme, and created just that atmosphere with various sorts of decorations at the teen club.

We've had a wonderful year and would like to thank our sponsors Miss Esneault and Mr. Foster who gave us so much help and were so understanding.

FRESHMEN

This year the Freshmen Class was one of the largest in the history of Chateauroux High.

As the school year got under way we had elections. To lead the freshmen we elected David Travitz as President, Lynn Golubic for Vice-President, Vicki Parker to take down the minutes and Peter Allen to handle the money.

Our spring dance was a big success. The decorations were quiet pastels, and they transformed the teen club beyond recognition.

We had many freshmen boys on both the basketball and football teams. Three of our girls were chosen as cheerleaders; Kay Eknes, Martha van Cleef, and Eileen Nelson.

All in all, our freshmen year at Chateauroux High School will be one to remember always.

JUNIOR HIGH HISTORY

Junior High activities were centered around a variety of clubs, athletics and music. The clubs offered a wide range of activities to appeal to almost any student's interests.

A club designed for the budding scientist was the Curie Science Society which began its first year of existence at Chateauroux Junior High School under the sponsorship of Mr. John Carpenter. The Club formulated a constitution and obtained Club quarters. Some of the activities of the club were field trips, individual projects and sponsoring a series of science films in the "Curie Science Theater".

The eighth Grade Dramatics Club was formed in October of 1957 to meet a twofold purpose: to make it possible for the pupils to learn some of the basic principles of good acting, and to provide a noontime activity of an indoor nature. Mrs. Ruth Hewlett has been sponsor of the Club since it was organized. This year the Club produced the play "A Case for Two Detectives" in November. Two additional plays "Dad Takes a Rest Cure" and a burlesque melodrama in pantomime, "Hisses and Kisses" were produced in May.

The sports activity at Chateauroux Junior High began with the formation of the soccer team coached by Mr. Jerry Marks. Three Junior High boys were on the team. They were Rufus Pradoes, Jimmie L'Angelle, and Charles Amberg.

Basketball was next, coached by Mr. Egerton. The first game was won by the Sabres. The team was composed of Don Wright, Bill Furnas, Val Hole, Charles Amberg, Mike Schwartz, Larry Winterdorf, and Santo Cantanese.

Although many of us will leave Chateauroux, our Junior High years will be remembered with fondness.

ANNUAL STAFF

As soon as school started we all rolled up our sleeves and started the wheels turning towards the end of a long road.

Beverly Flynn was chosen Editor-in-Chief by letter of application. The Business Department was headed by Faye McKim. Endless hours were spent by Patti Davis measuring, erasing and more measuring as Layout Editor. Our sports section was done by girl sports editor Sheila McCarthy. Donna Sage and her staff contributed their art skills of which we are quite proud. Photography was done by Dave Garrison.

Words such as dummy copy, layout, ident, copy etc. were new to many on the staff, but soon become part of our everyday speech. Like any other staff we had our problems, need for more pictures, students coming in droves and everything to turn our hair gray, but no matter how cloudy the sky looked we kept our determined spirit.

After several months of hard work, tears, headaches, and tribulations we retained a memory of wonderful and happy experiences. Along this road we learned to work together and to feel satisfaction in our accomplishments. Many thanks go to Miss Nelson, without whose help we would have been stranded. We've enjoyed doing our part in making "Vapor Trails" a yearbook to be proud of and to cherish forever. We sincerely hope you have as much pleasure looking at our selection as we did creating it.

It's harder than you think!

C'EST LA VIE

C'est La Vie, the student publication of Chateauroux High School, has continued presenting both information and entertainment to the student body.

We have been able, through the helpful efforts of many on-base organizations, to have our paper printed. Thus we remain one of the few American schools in Europe who have a printed publication. The staff would like to sincerely thank all the organizations involved. We would also like to thank Miss Scharpf whose help and advice have been inestimable.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year our Student Council was one of the best Chateauroux has ever had. Our President was Mary Donald until she rotated in January and our Vice-President, Penny Sommerville, took over for the remaining part of the year. Sheila McCarthy was our Secretary and Mike Brown was Treasurer. Chad's Student Council became members of the National Association of Student Councils and received pins for their membership. This year seven members of our Student Council attended the Student Council Conference in Orleans. To add to our accomplishments, our constitution was approved.

The Student Council sponsored several events at Christmas. The home room with the most attractive bulletin board or door received a prize, contributed by the Student Council. Student Council members also decorated a Christmas tree, adding to the holiday spirit.

Student Council members feel that the accomplishments of the year should add greatly to the further progress of the organization next year.

Mary Lee calls the meeting to order.

AND SO THEY SANG

During the course of the year the music department has been very active. The organizations are many and consist of a fifty-five voice mixed chorus, girls glee club, a girls triple trio and a madrigal singing group.

The singing groups have performed many times this year. The chorus sang for the fall Teachers' Conference and for the P.T.A. One of the highlights of the year was the Christmas concert which was presented at the Base Chapel and to the French girls' school in Chateauroux. To climax the year's accomplishments in the music department, the musical show "Oklahoma" was presented.

The purpose of the music department has been to bring music of a varied nature to as many people as possible. In striving for this purpose, each member has achieved a feeling of satisfaction for the part he has played in creating music.

FOOTBALL

For the first time in its history, Chateauroux American High School played eleven man football. Rebuilding a new squad was Coach Keith Lambertson's first task. Although the squad was small and inexperienced the Sabres finished with a 1-1-2 record.

The first game of the season saw a determined squad go against Verdun High School. In this game Don Cram and Ed Whitmer went over for Chad scores. Leading tackler was Ted Cooper with 12. Holding the Verdun offence were Bob Lembke, Vic Hupp, Larry Cruse, Louis Barnett, Burgess Rosedale, and Bill Behrens.

The game ended in a 12-12 tie, and was considered by most Sabre players the roughest game of the season.

The second game turned out to be a hard fought defensive battle between the Sabres and the Pirates of Paris High. In the third quarter, a bad center by Chateauroux gave Paris a safety, and a 2-0 victory.

The first victory of the season was against the Poitiers Panthers. Ed Whitmer led offence with three touchdowns. Also helping the Sabre offence was Co-Captain Hayes Huddleston. One of the most beautiful plays of the game was a 65 yard punt by Bill Behrens. The final score of this game was Chad 18, Poitiers 12.

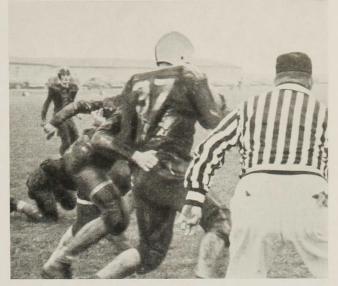

The last game of the season turned out to be the most disappointing one. Playing in a sea of mud, the Sabres lost the game 14-6 to the Orleans Trojans. Scoring the only Sabre touchdown was Co-Captain Ed Whitmer. A seventy yard pass play to Gary Mucho was called back.

Players, Ted Cooper and Ed Whitmer, made the France All Star football team.

USAREUR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS B BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONS

This seasons starting lineup for the Sabres consisted of a short but hustling team. The first game of the season was opened by Mike Carey, Mike Brown, Joe Richards, Art Wilson, and Bill Hole. But as the season progressed two of these starting players were knocked out of action. One player rotated back to the States while another was stricken down with illness. Replacing these players were two stars who had been out of the first game with illness. Going into the starting lineup for the Sabres were Hayes Huddleston and Larry Oyler.

The first game of the season against Orleans saw two evenly matched teams battle a hard fought game. Although trailing in the first three quarters of the game, the Sabres caught up and beat the Trojans 43 to 39.

The second and third Chad victories resulted from a double sweep in the Poitiers series. The first game saw a talented Sabre team pull away in the first quarter and maintain this lead throughout the game. Lead by Larry Oyler and Art Wilson, this 46 to 40 victory blazed the trail for the next morning's coming victory.

Another Chateauroux victory was a 58 to 48 one over the Poitiers Panthers. Overtaking a seven point deficit the Sabres scored basket after basket and finally broke away to their final lead and their third straight victory.

The next series was the most heartbreaking one in the eyes of the Chateauroux rooters. Journeying to Orleans the Sabres lost two games in a row. The first game was lost in an overtime 52 to 44. The Sabres lost the second game with a score of 37 to the Trojans 50. Art Wilson scored a total of 36 points in this series.

These defeats were forgotten when the Chateauroux Sabres fought their way to the Championship of the USAREUR High School Class B Basketball Tournament. The final game was the most exciting and hard-fought of the entire season with the Sabres finally overcoming the Würzburg Wolves in an overtime 56 to 55. Art Wilson was chosen Most Valuable Player of the Tournament.

The club lost 5-2 to the Lycee. But the boys learned a lesson in soccer and international relations.

The Chateauroux starting lineup consists of the following players: Slinkard, Center foreward; Allen, Left inside; Kreeger, Right inside; Dellinger, Left outside; Fields, Right outside; Brown, Center halfback; Reber, Right halfback; Weingaertner, Left Halfback; Harden, Fullback; Sanders, Fullback; Hole, Goalie.

GIRLS P.E.

So easy

Taught by Miss Chapla, the girls P. E. classes were very busy in basketball this year.

Although we had to dress in the old dormitory and walk down to the gym, there was still plenty of time to play a full basketball game. As the season progressed Miss Chapla chose twelve girls to represent the student body in a faculty v. s. girls all star squad game. Though the game was hard fought, the girls won.

In our school, a converted tobacco warehouse we feel we combine the best of two worlds. The International Fair in September and the camel fights in January add color to the usual round of movies and dances.

Izmir, ancient Smyrna and legendary birthplace of Homer, is one of the oldest living cities. Field trips to Bergama and Ephesus increase our knowledge and understanding of past civilizations. Today, ships from all over the world dock at Izmir and the waterfront bustles with activity.

We will return to America with much more than the high school credits will show—with an appreciation of how another people think and live.

Our Student Council began a very successful year with a vivacious bunch of kids and a brand new faculty. One representative was chosen from each of the junior high classes and the high school grades elected two. From these representatives the President, Phil Fellows, the Vice-President, Carol Crumlish, the Secretary, Mary Ellen Crumlish, and the Treasurer, Joe Anglin were elected at our first meeting.

One activity our Student Council members will never forget was the joint Student Leadership Conference in November at Ankara. Besides having a real "blast", we accomplished a great deal during our meetings — exchanging ideas on student government and activities.

Our Council President never had to ask twice for "new business". Ideas, activities, and issues came pouring in constantly. They were almost more than we could consider in one school: The Student Council provided the complete program for the cheerleaders, they established a hall monitor system, made plans for a school store, printed the school song, drew up various policies for faculty consideration, kept a monthly activity calendar posted, and sponsored dances which included the spring formal and the dance for the Ankara students during the basketball tournament in February.

The Izmir student representatives for 1958—1959 did a fine job in creating harmony among the students and between the faculty and student body.

NELSON C. BROWN SCHOOL HISTORY

Since the activating of Nouasseur Air Depot in 1952, the Nouasseur High School has grown and changed immensely. Formerly a little group of seven "dallas huts" in a far corner of the base, the high school is now well-equipped and well situated — a sharp contrast to its humble beginning. This year a new wing containing nine rooms has been added. There are now about 280 students at N.C.B. High. Even the school's name has been changed. On graduation day of 1956 the Nouasseur High School was re-named the Nelson C. Brown High School, in honor of a school officer who was killed in February of 1956.

At Nouasseur we have had a chance to see and observe two different cultures at the same time. The French and Moroccans live and work together, each retaining his own religion and customs. There is an opportunity to promote, in a small way, international relationships. We have done our best to do so during our stay here.

CLASS HISTORY

After twelve years of hard work, we have finally reached the status of seniors. This position naturally demands the respect of lower classmen, and the right to exercise senior privileges. And woe betide any freshman who objects to a mighty senior exercising his "divine rights"!

We worked hard to make our Christmas Formal a big success and were gratified by the results. This was a contribution to the savings for the annual senior trip. Last year the senior class spent four days in Tangier. Although we are still the in the process of earning what we hope will be enough money, we haven't made up our minds where we want to go. But wherever we go, we are looking forward to having just as much fun as last year's seniors did.

As the end of the year approaches, we are eagerly awaiting the Junior-Senior-Prom — the last big dance of our glorious year. And then comes the big day when our diplomas are put into our hands, and we are given a gentle push into a new life.

CLASS HISTORY

We, the junior class, have accomplished many things this year. We started by electing officers. Out of twenty-two students we selected Connie our President, and to work with her we chose our Vice-President Woody, Secretary Andy, Treasurer Jan, and Sergeant-at-Arms Gene.

Next on the list was the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. By working very hard we made it a big success, including wedding certificates and bands for the couples married by Marryin' Sam!

Then there was the junior-senior trip to French schools in Casablanca. The girls visited the Mers-Sultan girls' school, and the boys the Lycee Lyautey.

With the profits from the Sadie Hawkins Dance and bake sales we plan a lavish Junior-Senior Prom, a wonderful evening never to be forgotten, and a fitting conclusion to our year as juniors.

CLASS HISTORY

Our report cards delivered us from the dark depths of being freshmen of '58 to the fun and responsibility of being sophomores of '59.

We started our year off by putting sophomores into a good portion of the school's activities. Four-fifths of our cheerleading squad are sophomores, and we have a good representation on all our athletic teams — football, basketball and baseball. Sophomores have been elected officers in Student Council and other school organizations.

Along with our responsibilities we mixed in a load of fun. We took part in all the sports, not only by playing and cheerleading, but by being good spectators, too. We are planning a gala Valentine's Day dance, a semi-formal to be held in the Nouasseur Teen Club. We have held large and successful bake sales to raise money for dances and for our treasury. A large class party will be among the activities planned for the second semester, a party to bring to an end the school year. We feel that this is a wonderful year that we surely will always remember but we are not sorry to pass up the ladder to become "upper classmen", our last and final wish of the school year.

CLASS HISTORY

The freshmen are the backbone of the school. What would the seniors do without us to perform their menial tasks? But we've shown ourselves capable and responsible citizens.

Under the leadership of President Bob Amaon and officers Tim Connor and Kathy Sexton, we sponsored a Starlight Dance at the Teen Club in December. In April we plan a Spring Festival, an annual affair which is one of the high spots of the year.

We've been active in sports, have worked hard on the newspaper and annual, and are well represented in the band. But we're looking forward to next year when we will no longer be "low man on the totem pole".

DORM LIFE

Our dorms at Nouasseur are two white buildings filled with bubbling teenagers. This wonderful year started with a gay Halloween party. Then we enjoyed going to the U.S.O. Club in Casablanca several times. The biggest event of the year was our Christmas Dance at the Nouasseur Officers Club. We are also sponsoring a Valentine's Dance and plan to have several spring picnics.

Now let us introduce ourselves. We are nine girls and ten boys, all from Ben Guerir Air Force Base in southern Morocco.

Class History

As seniors we began our last but best year in school by electing class officers. Ed Lawhon was chosen president; Bob Hensler, vice-president; Elizabeth Colby, secretary; Jo Beth Thomas, treasurer; and Jeannette Lemon, reporterhistorian.

Under the direction of these enthusiastic officers many projects were undertaken with successful results. In conjunction with the Student Council we held a bake sale on Hallowe'en and conducted other fund-raising campaigns later in the year.

All of the male members of our small but ambitious class joined the basketball, football or track team.

Class rings were ordered after much diligent work to raise the funds to pay for them.

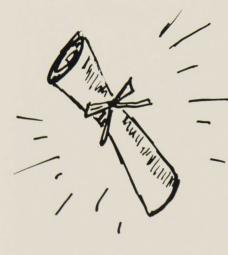

After this financial struggle, we went into another battle for caps and gowns, a commodity not afforded in the past. With cooperation from parents, teachers and students our goal became a reality.

Shortly following the first semester examinations we initiated the sophomores. This was the most hilarious event of the school year.

Our last major undertaking before graduation was a senior trip through all of the countries bordering the Mediterranean. The class enjoyed the trip immensely.

At last the big week arrived! Baccalaureate and graduation were happy times for all; but they seemed to mark, in an unexplainable way, a time of sadness. We know, however, that we are, at last, entering an adult world and sincerely feel that we can enter it with our heads held high because of the many valuable experiences that have been ours this year.

Juniors Class History

Early in the school year the Junior Class elected officers. Jack Jones was chosen as president; Errol Cochrane, vice-president; Lyndia Douville, as secretary; and Claudia Sobczak, as treasurer. Each of these people has worked diligently at his job; each is to be congratulated for his achievements.

It is traditional in most high schools that the Junior Class plan and present the junior-senior prom. Wheelus High School holds to this tradition. Tradition also requires that the prom be given at the expense of the juniors; consequently, members of the class have been busily engaged, since the beginning of the first semester, in various fund-raising activities. One of the first was a bake sale, which was moderately successful. The class treasury was augmented by the sale of booklets containing the school cheers. The really BIG money-maker, however, was a hot dog stand which was operated at the base Hallowe'en Carnival. A slave sale climaxed the money-raising campaign. The girls in the Junior Class were put up for auction and the proceeds were deposited in the class treasury. The way seems clear, financially speaking, for a really excellent prom.

The Junior Class has played a prominent part in school sports. Many of the members of the touch football team, the tackle football team, and the basketball team were juniors. Co-captains and high scorers in the different sports were from this class. Also, several junior girls were the driving force of the cheerleading squad.

The names of many junior students have appeared on the school Honor Roll; several juniors were elected to the National Honor Society.

Throughout the year, when any worthwhile activities were undertaken, particularly those which benefited the entire school, members of the junior class were always first to volunteer their services. The class modestly boasts that in its own small way it has helped our school to become a better school.

Class History

The Sophomore Class was one of the largest in our school. Early in the year the class was divided into two sections, retaining, however, only one set of class officers, who were: Claire McLeod, president; John Poast, vice-president; Sallye Stapleton, secretary; and Laurie Colby, treasurer.

One of the goals of the sophomores was to have a dance early in the spring in 1959. Since such activities are expensive, the class undertook different projects for the purpose of raising money. Early in the year we conducted several bake sales and we operated a successful popcorn stand at the Hallowe'en Carnival. The projects were fun — and profitable.

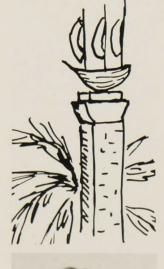

The sophomores were active in school sports.

Several of the boys were on the football and basketball teams and some of the girls were cheerleaders.

Academically, the class was more than successful. A number of the group was on the school honor roll; a sophomore, Louise Seelinger, had the highest academic standing in school.

One of the highlights of our year occurred in February. The members of the class were "initiated" by the seniors, who were assisted by a few juniors.

Looking back on the '58—'59 school year, we feel that it was successful and rewarding. Our junior year, we feel, will be even better.

Freshmen

Class History

The Freshman Class, like the sophomores, began the year with a large number of students; like the sophomores, the freshmen were compelled, because of their size, to divide the class into two parts. Each section had its own officials; however the combined class had one set of officers: David Harrison, president; Timothy Jones, vicepresident; Nancy Inman, secretary; and Marsha Phipps, treasurer.

Early in the year the freshmen formed a series of clubs. Several of the most popular were the Home Economics Club, the Hobby Club, the Tumbling Club, the French Club and the Record Club. The freshmen boys were active in school sports during the year. Several of them played on the touch football team; others, later in the term, formed a basketball team. This team played every game enthusiastically, even the one it lost to the Liceo High School, Tripoli.

This year the freshmen students attended most of their classes at the junior high school. This was quite different from the year before when all grades, nine through twelve, met at the senior high school. Next year, however, we'll be sophomores and be able to associate with the "big students".

There is an old proverb which says, "A man works from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done!" The spirit of that saying surely applies to this year's annual staff at Wheelus High School. From the early days of last September until the close of January, we were busily engaged in gathering, sorting, assessing and compiling material for this edition. As the deadline approached, the tempo of our activity increased. In the last few days before the deadline,

H. H. Arnold High School

Perched high on Hainerberg hill, overlooking the picturesque Roman resort city of Wiesbaden, stands our General H. H. Arnold High School. Today, with an enrollment of over six hundred, the school is a far cry from the old green-stone building on Lahnstrasse, home of the original forty-eight Warriors.

But Germany has modernized, and with it, General Arnold High. Our modern classrooms, auditorium, and gymnasium are evidence of this fact. Last year, a new AYA building was added next door to us, giving us a fine place for recreation and relaxation. Ninety-nine of our six hundred and eighty students reside in our dormitory, built in 1957. Connected to the dorm is an efficiently run cafeteria, which provides our daily meals.

Upon leaving the main building, one sees our Warrior Stadium, a grassy field where, in the past, excellent teams have romped over their stiff competition. Walking back to the school, one enters the connecting corridor between the gym and the school. In the gym the Warriors have hosted many fine basketball teams, and, though not always victorious, have maintained a reputation for good sportsmanship.

The high academic standing of our school is due in part to the efforts of the students themselves, but mainly to the excellent faculty and the wellequipped classrooms. The bright, friendly atmosphere of these rooms encourages learning.

This year a new administration brought many new ideas, but still retained several of our oldest traditions, such as the selection of the boy and girl student of the month.

We are fortunate to be students at General H. H. Arnold, since we receive not only a standard high school education, but also have the cultural advantage of being in Europe. Our school has had an excellent past record; signs point to its future being even brighter than its past.

Secretary Pam Corey, left, discusses plans for the Variety Show with committee chairman Pegge Boysen.

The day finally arrived — we were mighty seniors, those to whom the underclassmen look for guidance and example. This was to prove a busy year, with the various senior activities to keep us hopping. We immediately started the ball rolling by establishing a monitor system in the school halls and the lunchroom. The Student Council gave us a priority lunchline privilege.

Our variety show, "Orderly Confusion", was our first project towards earning the necessary money for our class trip to Italy, the Senior Ball, the Banquet, and Graduation. Concession stands, the raffle, and our senior play helped us in raising our sum. It was through class participation and the co-operation of the underclassmen that we achieved our goals. We are proud of our progress and hope we left footsteps in which next year's senior class may profitably follow.

In February we received our much desired class rings. These made us feel more a part of our Alma Mater, Wiesbaden.

Throughout the year we experienced the anticipation of graduation. We would soon be leaving the security of high school and going into a complicated world as young adults. Although we were anxiously awaiting the arrival of June, we still felt a hesitation, for this was to be a new experience, but a lasting one!

Although there were many new faces in the Junior Class this year, we were all soon well-acquainted and under way for a big year.

Since our big activity of the year is the Prom, one of our first class meetings was devoted to discussion of fund-raising devices. We settled on the traditional bake sale, and each home room has had the responsibility for conducting noon-time sales. After much discussion, the twenty-fourth of May was chosen as PROM NIGHT, and all too soon the big night arrived. Dinner and dancing and a wonderful floorshow made the evening a full but enjoyable one.

Early in the year we formed a Junior Class Council, composed of the class officers and representatives from each home room, to expedite the many tasks we faced. Spurred by the council, we voted to order school rings this year instead of waiting until we become seniors.

At the close of football season we sponsored the Homecoming Dance, and, to show how versatile our class is, we then decided to stage a play, Thornton Wilder's OUR TOWN. Much work went into this project, but on the sixteenth and seventeenth of April our efforts were rewarded by large and appreciative audiences.

Before we could turn around, it was June, exams were over, and we were seniors-elect — one more year to go!

Treasurer Kathy Sheahan, right, talks with the beginning and the end of the largest class in school that is, Kelley Alspaugh and Harold Yeager.

President Dick Drdla, right, points out a popular tune for the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance to Grenville Bingham.

Secretary Judy Hackford, standing, discusses the sophomore class write-up with annual staffer Margaret Fitts.

On September third of the year 1958, the doors of General H. H. Arnold High opened to a new Sophomore Class, the largest in its history.

Soon afterwards, elections for class officers were held. The results were: President, Dick Drdla, Vice-President, George Finan, Secretary, Kathy Sheahan, and Treasurer, Judy Hackford. Each of these officers contributed much of their time and effort in making our sophomore year a success. Our sincere thanks to Miss Belarski and Mr. Bicknell, our sponsors, who greatly aided us in many ways. During November, the Sophomore Class sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. The dance was a great success, as evidenced by the joy and laughter throughout the evening. Next the Sophomore Drama Club presented the first act of "Life With Father", as their contribution to the competitive plays presented in January.

Now that the year has ended and we are looking forward to becoming Juniors, we feel a little sad to leave our sophomore year. However, as progress cannot be halted, we, too, must move forward to a new year, a new class and a new life.

explains our mosaic crest to

Vice-president Diane Faringer is congratulated by Student Council President Chrest on her election.

Mad confusion, a rush, rush, rushing to meet new classes, schedules, and teachers was the general freshman atmosphere this September, 1958. Hand in hand with this confusion went the moans over algebra and the groans of the biology classes disecting their first specimens.

But we freshmen got off to a good start with the choosing of our class officers, Eileen Mandel was voted president, Diane Faringer vice-president; Barbara Sahl is our secretary, and Elizabeth Kerr is treasurer.

While the girls took over the class offices, the boys were getting their first taste of high school sports: football, basketball, soccer, and track. Many of our freshmen, to be sure, are quite proud of our middle-line man Larry Poh and Jack Alspaugh who fully represented the freshmen in soccer.

As the school year closes, we freshmen will reminisce over the fond memories of the struggles with upperclassmen and the feeling of academic achievement which we accomplished through a high percentage of students on the honor roll. Now that we have become acquainted with the high school atmosphere and its customs, we freshmen of '59 can all look forward to the coming school year as sophomores of H. H. Arnold High School.

The Student Council of H. H. Arnold High School, consisting of nineteen homeroom representatives and four officers, worked hard to live up to the goals described in the constitution: to promote activities of service to the entire school; to act as an advisory body representing the students in conference with the faculty; to maintain high standards of conduct by students with reference to all curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Fulfilling the first requirement, the Council has sponsored a pay telephone, organized a welcoming committee to greet new students, handled a central lost and found desk, decorated the Christmas tree in the foyer, and planned several assemblies. On February 13, the Student Council members staged a beautifully decorated Valentine party for the students.

Teacher appreciation day was one of the devices used by the Council to encourage harmonious student-teacher relations.

To foster high standards among students, the Council maintained the Student of the Month program and worked out a Student Government Day, stressing student responsibility.

Other activities which kept the Council busy were Career Day, a food drive at Christmas for needy families, and hosting foreign students to a day at our school.

The student body was well pleased with the work of their elected representatives for the school year 1958—59.

This year's annual staff was the largest in Wiesbaden's history. Over fifty eager students applied for positions on the staff, thirty-five being finally selected.

After much heated discussion, the staff chose "Water" as their theme, since water, in one form or another, dominates life in Wiesbaden. There then began a mad rush to photograph and draw rivers, fountains, lakes, ponds, puddles, and umbrellas. As usual, the art and the photography staffs vied for the title and the division pages.

The beginners were taught by the old-timers, and soon terms such as "copy", "layout", "ident", and "proof" became a part of everyone's vocabulary. The term "deadline" loomed ominously in the future.

Suddenly "deadline" became a reality. The months had slipped by and there remained only six more days 'til February sixth. A week of strenuous after-school activity, plus hectic activity periods finally finished the book.

The '59 annual is the product of many people's hard work and good ideas. It will stand as a record of school life in Wiesbaden, the source of much fond reminiscing for those who helped in its production.

Despite adverse conditions, the SMOKE SIG-NALS staff has managed to produce a paper nearly every month since the beginning of school. The staff began the year with one bottle of ink, two typewriters, no paper, and a staff of eager, enthusiastic students.

Ursula Brandon was named editor, Betty Golden being her assistant. Tom Tebbs took the position of sports editor, Charles Rossiter that of feature editor, Jim Sains, exchange editor, and Dana Davis, art editor. A fine staff of reporters and typists rounded out the SMOKE SIGNALS staff. Miss Geraets, journalism teacher, taught the techniques of journalism, finally got a corner on mimeograph paper, learned how to repair typewriters, and discovered a new method of removing mimeograph ink from white blouses.

Special features of the year included Willy the Warrior, drawn by Dana to dramatize stories the staff felt vital. Everyone enjoyed Pegge Boysen's column, "Pegge's Pratter". When asked where she got the word "Pratter", Pegge confessed she "just made it up".

Editorials during the year concentrated on setting high standards for students in both the academic and the extra-curricular fields.

The result of the combined efforts of everyone on the staff is a school paper which gives a fully comprehensive coverage of all Wiesbaden High School student activities.

Good comeback, Warriors! Ordinarily, one would think a comeback is not in order for a team that only the year before walked away with the European championship. But American schools overseas are far from ordinary, and all but three of last year's first two squads were lost, due either to rotation or graduation.

To the ignorant eye, Wiesbaden's 1958 season would seem unimpressive; but, all things considered, we feel that it must be termed successful. The seemingly mediocre record of four wins and four losses is quite deceiving. This accounting does not tell how injuries plagued the team for the duration of the season, benching many valuable players. Nor does it tell how Coach Ryan molded the inexperienced group who came out in September into a smoothly functioning machine, laying a firm foundation for 1959.

Praises and thanks to our own fighting Irishman, Coach Ryan, and to his aides de camp, Coach Pyecha and Captain Sweeny, for making this a truly memorable season. We've got the Coach, team, pep, steam . . .

Chess may be the game of kings elsewhere in Europe, but at Wiesbaden High, basketball is now the royal sport. The record of the Warriors Five is fine in itself, but add to that our sweet vengeance against the Frankfurt Eagles, the only fitting reward for the team is a position in a king's court.

Forced to come up with a completely new team, as all of 1957's squad were lost, Coach Pyecha did the impossible. He didn't produce an average team. He did much better than that. Underrated by all, Wiesbaden surprised the whole league.

The fruit of the team's hard work can easily be seen in each of the squad. Dave Thompson, the bubble blowing playmaker, is Wiesbaden's "keep cool" boy. In Buddy Harris, the Warriors have the "never give up" type, an attitude indispensible in any sport. Don Ewoldt is to Wiesbaden what Wilt Chamberlain was to Kansas State. Always dependable on the fast break is Bill Krause. And, of course, the team sharpshooter, Bob Simpson, always comes through in the clinch. With a fine lineup like this, backed up by a dependable bench, all under professional leadership, Wiesbaden High is well represented on the European basketball court.

Now take a look on the next page at the team behind the team, our JayVee squad, coached by Mr. Pizarro. This aggressive, fast-moving group piled up an impressive record for the season and gave the Varsity tough, challenging practice. Rather than say the conventional thanks, I think we can better show our feelings of gratitude and respect by bestowing on Mr. Pyecha and Mr. Pizarro an accolade of words: Rise, Sir John and Sir Ricardo!

Sparked this year by Willie, the Warrior, the Wiesbaden Soccer Team went on to a season unsurpassed even by last year's championship squad. Consisting of several more experienced members, as well as ambitious but unpolished recruits, the '58 Warriors made up the highest scoring Soccer Team in the history of H. H. Arnold High!

Undefeated among American schools, we were beaten only by two German schules. Having thus shown no quarter to our American rivals, we anxiously await the Spring tournaments.

This season, climaxed by a victory at Paris, can safely be said to be one of Wiesbaden's best yet. Credit is due to our fine goalkeeper, magnificent forwards and excellent backs, all supported by a very proficient bench.

Thanks and congratulations are due for rigorous but thorough training and especially for this most successful season, to Mr. Pizarro, our coach.
